OUTLINES.

A horrible wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad near Woodville, Ind., when an immigrant train collided head-on with a freight train; forty-five men and women were killed or burned to death in the wreckage with onlookers powerless to aid or rescue them; fifty-eight were injured and many of them will die.——The Southern Immigration and Quarantine Conference held its second session at Nashville, Tenn., yesterday, and Governors Cox, of Tennessee, and Heyward, of South Carolina, discussed the negro question as tending to keep immigrants away from the South; is was agreed that the idle negro must go and the belief was expressed that the influx of white foreigners would settle the negro question.——A reign of crime exists at Pittsburg, where within 24 hours there have been three murders, numerous robberies and burglaries and the crucifixion of a young married woman whose hands were cruelly nailed to the kitchen sink.——General MacKenzie, chief of engineers, has recommended $16,052,431 for the completion of fortifications, and $450,000 for Cape Fear river improvements.——At Valdosta, Ga., yesterday J. G. Rawlings was for the fifth time sentenced to death for the murder of the Carter children, his three sons and a negro also being under death sentence.——At Lima, O., yesterday suits were filed against four subsidy companies said to be cotnrolled by the Standard Oil Company.——New York markets: Money on call strong 5 to 20 per cent. ruling rate 12, closing bid 5, offered at 8; spot cotton 20 points advance, closing quiet at 10:30; flour quiet and lower to sell; wheat easy, No. 2 red 79¼ elevator; corn is regular No. 2; oats steady, mixed 39; turpentine firm 69½ to 70; rosin firm.

The Republicans in the Alabama Legislature can stand up and vote as one man. There is only one of them.

Count Boni is too late in promising to be good. The Countess possibly cannot look on it as a Boni fide promise.

The republicans did very well with those dollar subscriptions added to the trust and insurance company contirbutions left over from the 1904 campaign.

The trusts are rejoicing and talking about 'confidence" since the Republican won in the congressional election November 6. Stand-pattery meant a great deal to them, hence that glad feeling.

It was said that it was the intention of the administration to have Congress pass a bill providing for Federal control of fertilizer manufactories doing interstate business. The bureaucracy is getting on its legs by degrees.

The newly-elected governor of Idaho telegraphed his congratulations to Secretary Taft who spoke in that State and helped the Republicans to win. The Democrats made a fight against the Mormons and were defeated. We fail to see anything congratulatory in it for Taft.

Says the Washington Post: "With an Indian, Cuban, Filipino and negro question on its hands at one time, the present administration appears to be in the pacifying business on a large scale." We can't help but observe that the administration is using the army to settle the first three, but the last one has to take its chances.

The United States Census Bureau announces that last year 4,299,738,048 buttons were made in the United States. We regret to suspect that the supply will be greatly below the demand, considering the fact that urging the past six months every voter in the country has been button-holed by the politicians.

The New York Republicans have discovered that 5,000 Republican ballots in Queens county were completely overlooked while they were counting votes for lieutenant governor. They needed just about that many to elect Bruce lieutenant governor over Chanler, the accomplce of Col. Hearst. They entirely neglected to throw out a Chanler vote every time they threw out one for Hearst up-State. Such negligence came very nearly being fatal.

WILL BUILD BRIDGE

Conference of Commissioners of New Hanover and Pender At Castle Haynes

VERY SATISFACTORY INDEED

Modern Structure to be Placed Over Northeast River Establishing Easy Communication Between Two Counties—Sub-committee.

A conference of the Boards of County Commissioners of New Hanover and Pender counties was held yesterday at Castle Haynes for the purpose of considering the practicability of building a bridge across Northesat river at or near that point to take the place of the present toll ferry now maintained there as the only means of communication between the two counties. All members of both boards were present, those from Pender county being Messrs. K. F. Powers, Geo. J. Moore, and F. P. Flynn. There were also in attendance Messrs. Z. W. Whitehead, of this city, T. J. Armstrong and C. J. Miller, of Rocky Point. The conference was the result of a meeting of Chairman McEachern and Mr. Whitehead with the Pender Board at Burgaw last Monday.

The meeting yesterday was organized by the election of Mr. Moore as chairman and Maj. Wm. F. Robertson as secretary. The matter of the bridge was gone carefully over and diseussed with great favor by all present. A bridge builder from Roanoke, Va., was present at the conference and gave the members much information as to bridges, but neither side was ready for any contract. It was decided by resolution unanimously pased to appoint a committee of two from each Board to take the matter in charge and push the same to a successful conclusion, if possible, and there seems to be no doubt about it. The committee was empowered to employ engineers to make surveys and attorneys to make examination of titles to property, etc. The attorneys will also look into any rights that may be claimed by Mr. Samuel Blossom, owner of the present ferry across the river. The bridge, if established, will be under an act of the legislature at a recent session when all the needed legislation to this end was secured. The committee appointed to have the bridge matter in charge was made to consist of Messrs. McEachern and Robertson from the New Hanover Board, Messrs. Flynn and Moore from the Pender Board. These gentlemen will begin the work at once and the bridge may be put down as a certainty. It is expected that great good will result from the establishment of more desirable means of communication between the two counties. It is estimated that the bridge will cost about $18,000. The expense of the building of the bridge and all preliminaries with the cost of maintenance is to be borne jointly by the two counties.

GOES TO FLORIDA.

Mr. J. T. Burrows Has Important Promotion With Swift People.

Mr. John T. Burrows, of Wisconsin, who for several months has been associated with Mr. B. H. Stephens in the construction of the big Swift Fertilizer Works in this city, has gone to Bartow, Fla., where he becomes manager of the Swift interests at a big phosphate works there. The Chicago Company is building an $80,000 dredge for the work in the phosphate mines there and Mr. Burrows, though quite a young man, will have entire charge.

Mr. Burrows made a great many friends here in a personal and social way and his departure from Wilmington is greatly regretted by a host of acquaintances. He is a young man of fine business ability, good address and energetic from the word go.

COURT'S ABRUPT END

Tardiness of Attorney Meares' Cause of Docket Before Judge Purnell Being Disposed of in Short Order Yesterday Morning.

The United States District Court in this city came to an abrupt end yesterday morning when Judge Purnell, presiding gave judgment for the defendant in the case of the New Jersey and North Carolina Land and Lumber Company and peremptorily continued another because counsel for the plaintiff in both cases was a few miutes late in arriving in court. These cases being disposed of in that manner and no others being ready for trial an adjournment for the term was ordered. Judge Purnell, Marshall Dockery and the witnesses and jurors in attendance upon the court left on the afternoon and evening trains for their homes.

The summary disposition of the case because of the absence of the attorney constituted an incident that was freely talked of on the streets yesterday. It appears that Judge Purnell understood that the court was to convene at 9:30 o'clock, although the jurors and witnesses had not been summoned to appear until 10 o'clock. Mr. Iredell Meares and Mr. Robert Ruark, counsel for the plaintiff in the New Jersey and North Carolina Land and Lumber Company's suit against the Gardner Lacy Lumber Company involving some of the famous "Green Swamp" lands, also understood that 10 o'clock was the hour for convening the court and he was present a few minutes after that time. He was surprised upon his arrival in court to find that the judge presiding had given judgment for the other side on account of his few minutes tardiness. He made an appeal to the court to re-instate the case on the docket and argued the matter at some length, but Judge Purnell was firmly fixed in his resolution and the judgment was entered as originally passed. From this Mr. Meares and Mr. Ruark took an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals. The case of Clarence L. Parker against the Clarendon Water Works Company, in the absence of Mr. Meares at the opening of court, was continued until next term. Mr. Meares also protested against this course vigorously, stating that his client was present from New York at some considerable expense and that there were witnesses who had been brought from Georgia and elsewhere at considerable cost, but His Honor would not relent and the case was continued. The court adjourned shortly after 10 o'clock until the next term. Mr. Meares states that it was 3 minutes after 10 o'clock when he came into the court and learned of the disposition of the cases which he was anxious to try.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Negro Porter Had Been Systematically Robbing Express Company.

William Moore, a negro of social ambitions among his race and for three years employed in the office of the Southern Express Company in this city, was arrested Saturday charged with systematically robbing the company for several months. Constable Savage, who made the arrest, recovered from the negro between $200 and $300 worth of goods, consisting of clothing, shoes rugs, cigars, whiskies and the like, much of which the Express company had paid for as lost several months ago. The negro was jailed by Justice Furlong in default of $250 bond for his appearance at the january term of court.

Capt. J. R. Williams, manager of the Express Company, requested that the press refrain from publishing the news of the arrest Sunday morning, saying that others were implicated in the robbery and until all were caught he was of the opinion that the publication might thwart the efforts for the arrest of the others. At his request with this statement and the further statement that the other morning papers had promised to do likewise no mention of arrest of the negro was made in these columns Sunday morning. But since the story was brought out in the morning contemporary Sunday morning, we violate no ethics of the newspaper profession by giving the facts above now. Other arrests are expected to follow the arrest of the negro, according to the statement of Capt. Williams and it is believed that detectives are at work making a thorough examination of the case.

'TWAS CIRCUS DAY

Barnum and Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth" Here For Two Performances.

WAS VERY SATISFACTORY

Big Aggregation Gave Very General Satisfaction—Many Visitors Here From Surrounding Country—Off For Fayetteville This Morning.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" is not a misnomer when applied to the vast tented enterprise of Barnum & Bailey, which was seen at two performances, afternoon and night, in this city yesterday. Eight long trains of eighty-six cars and coaches bearing the shows reached the city Sunday afternoon over the Atlantic & Yadkin road, having been received from the Seaboard Air Line at Sanford, N. C., and all the afternoon and Sunday night canvassmen, stake drivers, animal tenders and other attaches of the show were busy making ready for the two performances which delighted the two tent-capacity audiences the following day. The crowds here were declared by the showmen to have been the largest since they left Madison Square Garden in New York last April. More than 20,000 people must have seen the show at the two exhibitions. The tent has a capacity of something over 12,000 and both in the afternoon and night there were few, if any, vacant seats inside, while thousands of others remained on the outside and in the several side attractions of the main enterprise.

The casual observer was struck quite as forcibly by the size of the show as he was by the various exhibitions. The main tent is 600 feet long and with the others, 22 in number, the shows cover 22 acres of ground. For this reason the exhibitions could not be given on the Hilton Park property proper but the transient city had to be laid off on the golf links to the right of the old abandoned street car track. More than a thousand people are connected with the show and there are more than 700 horses. The daily expense of the enterprise is said to be $7,500 per day. Ahead of the show are more than a score of press and advance agents and nearly 200 men in the advertising crews. It is a great, vast aggregation of wonders and as the show was seen in Wilmington yesterday, it gave very general satisfaction. A heavy downpour of rain early Sunday night laid the dust and the temperature was cool and bracing enough to make ideal circus weather. The people came in great numbers not only from Wilmington itself, but from all surrounding towns and from the country. More than 700 people were brought in on the Wilmington and Weldon train yesterday morning alone, while others came on the A. & Y., the Seaboard Air Line, the W. C. & A., the Newbern road and by other means of transportation.

The street car service was entirely inadequate and abominable. Many people bent on seeing the afternoon performance either had to stay away or take private conveyance to the grounds. There was no boarding the cars anywhere near the central portions of the city. The trouble did not seem to be the number of cars so much as it was the ability of those in charge to keep them moving. A long string of cars was side tracked at the terminal near the grounds while hundreds of people down town were either hiring conveyances to get to the show or taking time by the forelock and walking out. Conditions were about the same in getting away from the grounds. There were plenty of cars filled with people ready to go, but the cars didn't move.

Entering the large main tent at the grounds the spectator goes first through the giant menagerie, said to be the largest with a traveling company in the world. There were to be seen a herd of 24 sleek elephants, including one said to be 74 years of age and the oldest in captivity; three giraffes worth $20,000 each; 20 healthy looking camels, dromedaries, Hindu cattle, rhinoceros, llamas, bears, lions, tigers, panthers, monkeys, baboons and hundreds of other wild creatures of rare specimen. The giants and midgets were also exhibited in the menagerie tent and proved to be quite interesting.

In the main exhibition tent, the greatest system obtains. There is a man for every duty and a duty for every man. Turn where one would there were polite attendants to give every patron a courteous reply to a question or to give the proper direction. There are three large rings to the circus and there's "something doing" in all of them at one and the same time. A small army of premier clowns with all sorts of new absurdities disported themselves up and down the driveway between acts and time passed quickly. There were no old stunts and the performers looked healthy, happy and prosperous. Costumes were bright and all the paraphernalia with possibly the exception of the tent looked more like the show was just out for the season instead of preparing to go into Winter quarters.

The acrobatic and trapeze work by the various performers was good and sent a thrill through the audience at stated intervals. The riding was good and was applauded very liberally. There were freaks and frivolities always on the side and the man with a grouch inside the tent had to be very grouchy indeed to retain his grouchiness.

The automobile stunt by the lady around the whirl, if it may so be described, was thrilling and provoked great applause. The act came as a finale and compelled one to hold the breath until it was all over. The show may be truthfully said to be one of the cleanest, despite its size, that has visited Wilmington in many years. While all the hurry and rush incident to "putting up" was in progress Sunday and hundreds of laborers were at the hardest and most vexing kind of work in the deep sand on the lot, not one profane word was heard. The men, too, seemed to understand their business and worked with a system that would do credit to the United States Army. A discharge check at the pay wagon is said to be the penalty of the management of the shows for profanity or the slightest discourtesy on the part of any attache of the show on the grounds.

The performance was hardly half through last night before "props" that were done with for the night show were hurried again aboard the cars and by 1 o'clock this morning more than one of the sections of the train was on its way to Fayetteville where two exhibitions will be given today. From Fayetteville the show goes to Raleigh, then to Hendersonville, next to Norfolk and last to Richmond where the season will be closed. The shows then go into winter quarters in Ohio and will not be out again until next spring.

On the fringe of the crowd yesterday afternoon the fakirs plied their game to good advantage, the old-timers having recognized the man with shell game and fought shy from the start. The games, however, were well patronized by the colored population and not a few whites from the more rural sections. Then there were a great many of the legitimate refreshment stands and affairs were quite as lively on the outside of the tent as they were on the inside. The police made comparatively few arrests. No extras were put on the force for the occasion, but the regulars seemed to handle the crowds well.

NO DRAW IN TRESTLE

War Department Rejects Petition of Certain Persons For Opening in Trestle Work Over Banks Channel at Wrightsville Beach.

It will be gratifying for the public to know that the War Department at Washington has decided not to require the Consolidated Company to place a draw in its bridge over the Banks channel on the suburban line at the beach. The decision of the Department in this respect was received at the United States Engineers' office in this city several days ago, but until the arrival of Maj. Joseph Kuhn, the new engineer in charge of this district, Sunday, no one in the office was authorized to give the information to the public.

The decision of the department, it is stated, was because there were no petitioners to press their claims. All the facts in the case are well remembered by the general public, and there is no use now in going into details. The company is spared a large expense and the people are saved a great inconvenience and a real element of danger. Just after all the agitation in Wilmington for the draw there came news of the terrible catastrophe on a Sunday not long ago at Atlantic City, where conditions were much the same as they were sought to be made here, and the people viewed with alarm even the probability of a draw in the trestle here. The decision of the war department in the premises is considered prudent, wise and is a source of much satisfaction to the general public.

Maj. Kuhn, the new engineer in charge of the Wilmington district, United States Engineers will have joint charge here with the Norfolk station until a regular engineer can be assigned to this place. Maj. Kuhn comes from the west and has already met a number of Wilmington business men who have extended him a cordial welcome to the city. For the present he is a guest at The Orton.

VETERANS' REUNION

Plans For Great National Gathering at Fort Fisher Assuming Definite Shape

TO BE OF BLUE AND GRAY

New York Association Accepts Invitation and Will Assist in Effort to Get President Roosevelt Here For the Occasion.

Plans that were set afoot for a great National reunion of Fort Fisher veterans on the grounds of that memorable engagement at the mouth of the Cape Fear river at the late meeting and organization of the survivors' association in this city, are rapidly assuming definite shape and there appears now no doubt but that the reunion will be held and that there will be present not only those who wore the gray but those who wore the blue in that great conflict. It will be remembered that the date selected was the fifteenth of January, 1907, the forty-first anniversary of the capitulation of Fisher, and that a resolution was unanimously passed inviting all the veterans of the North to be present at that time.

The action of the survivors' association in respect to the invitation to the veterans on the other side has been communicated through Rev. J. A. Smith, the first vice president, to the 117th New York Association of survivors and he has a letter from Mr. George B. Fairhead, secretary of the New York oganization, enthusiastically accepting the invitation and stating that all arrangements are being made for bringing a goodly number of his camp to this city at the time. The railroads are being asked and have consented to give a low rate for the occasion and not only survivors from the North but their sons and daughters and members of other commands that were in the engagement at Fisher are coming.

It is proposed at the reunion to have as an especial guest President Theodore Roosevelt. Rev. Mr. Smith is writing to the New York Association for its co-operation in the effort to have the President and with the encouragement of a number of Congressmen, who have been interested, it is believed that the chief executive can be induced to come. An invitation will also be extended to the Governor of the State and his staff to be present.

The reunion is the first step in a plan that the survivors' association has on foot for the purchase of the site of Ft. Fisher by the National Government and its conversion into a National Park. The survivors have taken hold of the movement with a will and a little later the Chamber of Commerce and city and county governments will be asked to assist in the work.

Col. William Lamb, who commanded the Confederate forces at Fisher, has written that he will be present at the reunion and meantime will do all in his power to further the efforts of the association.

PEOPLES ADMITTED TO BAIL.

Engineer Who Shot Negro Deck Hand on Steamer Lyon at Liberty.

Advices having been received from the hospital that the negro John McDowell whom he shot on the steamer G. W. Lyon Friday night, was out of danger, Engineer J. A. Peoples, who had been in custody of the police since the shooting, was admitted to bail of $500, which was furnished Sunday by Mr. T. D. Love, on whose steamers Peoples was formerly employed. Mr. Peoples was at once given his liberty but has been recognized for preliminary trial as soon as McDowell is able to leave the hospital.

Heavy Tax From Circus.

From the Barnum & Bailey circus which exhibited in Wilmington yesterday the city collected $150 tax and the state and county collected $500. Many persons placed various estimates on the amount of money the shows would carry away from town, but it was philosophically observed by some one that after all taxes and expenses are paid, the shows will not realize much more than a fair dividend on the vast outlay of capital that is necessarily involved.

Their Infant Dead.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey G. Southerland extend their sincere sympathy in the death of their infant son, Chauncey G., Jr., aged nine months, which occurred Sunday afternoon in this city. The funeral was conducted yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock from the residence by Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., and the interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

DEMOCRACY DID MAKE GAINS.

Remarks the Norfolk Landmark (Dem):

"Mr. Bryan thinks he finds encouragement in the result of Tuesday's elections. He has probably not noticed that the Republican majority in the House of Representatives will be the largest a Republican President has ever had in the second half of a term, and that the Democratic representation in the Senate will be the smallest since the days of Reconstruction."

But did you notice how the popular Republican vote "swunk"? You can't lose us optimists. The condition which we face now is overwhelming control of Congress by the Republicans. The theory which the Republicans have to stare in the face is that if the popular vote comes the Democratic way in the same ratio in the next two years that it has in the past two years, we may have them facing a condition and present us a theory.

As a matter of fact, however, the Democrats did actually gain in the election both in the popular vote and in the election of Congressmen and State officers. The result was not what we had hoped for, but we can find encouragement in it. Col. Bryan in his recent statement concerning the outcome of the election said:

"The Democratic gains in Congress have not been as great as the party expected, but they have been sufficient to make it probable that the Democrats will control the Congress to be elected in 1908. In nearly all the Legislatures in the middle States the Democrats have made decided gains and these promise much for the Senatorial contests which take place two years hence.

"In Iowa, Kansas and California the Democrats made a splendid fight for their gubernatorial candidates. The reduction of Governor Cummin's majority from more than 70,000 to 20,000 puts Iowa in the doubtful states for two years hence. Kansas and California can no longer be claimed as certainly Republican. The fight made by Mr. Harris in the former State and by Mr. Bell in the latter give more than a reasonable hope of success two years hence.

"The victory in Missouri will bring joy to every Democratic heart. A wail went up when Missouri dropped out of the Democratic column two years ago. Her return is greeted with widespread rejoicing. Oklahoma, the new State comes in with a rousing Democratic majority. The constitution will be written by Democrats and she will send two Senators to fight in the interest of the wealth producers."

The above view of Col. Bryan is correct, leaving out for the future to decide his prophesy, as to Democratic control of Congress in 1908. The next Congress will have more Democrats in it than the Fifty-ninth or present Congress had. Last Friday in summing up the result from the Republican standpoint, Chairman Sherman, of the Republican Campaign Committee, in closing up headquarters in New York, said among other things:

"It is true that our majority in the Sixtieth Congress is not so great as in the present Congress. This may be accounted for by the fact that many districts normally Democratic, which came to us in the monstrous Roosevelt wave of 1904, have settled back into the Democratic column. In a few districts normally Republican, we met with individual reverses, but this can be ascribed in nearly every quarter, if not every instance, to local conditions and issues so potent as to completely overshadow for the time being, national issues and the feeling upon the part of the voters in those districts that a working Republican majority was assured without the election of Republicans in those districts. These losses I believe to be temporary, and I have not the slightest doubt that these districts will be found in the Republican column after the election of 1908."

Chairman Sherman accounts for the Democratic gain in a different way than Col. Bryan sees it, and as to the prophesies of both we would rather look at it from the Bryan standpoint which is that the election shows a trend—great or little—toward the Democracy.

TO START DEMOCRATIC REVIVAL.

A special to the New York Herald from New Haven, Conn., on Saturday states that 100 leading Democrats of New England have been called to meet in the Quincy House, Boston, on Wednesday to perfect on organization to form clubs to spread the party principles. Among those invited are Governor-elect Higgins, of Rhode Island; Charles B. Thayer, of Norwich; B. B. Smalley, of Vermont; George E. Hughes, of Maine; True E. Morris, of New Hampshire; and Homer S. Cummings, of Stamford, Conn. George Frederick Williams, of Massachusetts, and Alexander Troup, of New Haven, in a statement about the proposed movement, said that the committee on Friday night at a meeting, mentioned neither W. J. Bryan nor W. R. Hearst and that the man whom they would name for the presidency probably would be selected in Boston.

It would appear that the meeting is specially called to put forward a New England Democrat for President New England has some able men who would make a good President, but none of them are likely to add any strength to a Democratic National ticket by a likelihood of carrying any of the New England States. It is New England's privilege, however, to show her hand and give us a definition of the kind of Democracy they have up that way.

If the Boston meeting decides to propagate old-time Democratic principles and steers clear of some of the centralizing, pretermalistic fads that some people attempt to pass off as Democracy, all well and good. As Senator Vance, of North Carolina once said in effect, Democratic principles are immortal, and he meant the principles that are really democratic and not some of the policies that a real Democrat refuses to recognize as principles.

Could Tell It Another Way.

Many years ago an old and well to do farmer in western New York had something of a reputation as a litigant. He had a peculiar twist about his mouth when he talked, due to some muscular affection, which gave a striking effect to his utterances. His old neighbors tell of a trip that he made to see his lawyers on a certain occasion when he had made up his mind to have a lawsuit. He sat down with his lawyer and laid out his case before him at length. The lawyer said, "Well, on that statement you haven't any case." The old man hitched his trousers nervously, twitched his face and hastily replied, "Well, I can tell it another way."—Case and Comment.

African Blood Brotherhood.

The method of making blood brotherhood among the Galla and Somali has its peculiarities. It is described by William Astor Chanler in "Through Jungle and Desert." Lokomagui on behalf of his people and I on behalf of my own each seized in our right hands a round stone. Upon the stones we liberally expectorated. Each then passed his stone to his following, who did likewise. We then exchanged stones, and each, holding the stone in his right hand, with his left dug a hole in the soil, meanwhile uttering words of supposed magic import. In these holes we finally placed the stones and covered them with sand. We then grasped hands and assured each other that we were the best friends possible.

The Editor and the Tramp.

Bret Harte's first stories appeared in the San Francisco Overland Monthly. Then he was appointed editor of this magazine. That was in 1869. About this same period two or three weekly newspapers were struggling for existence.

One day the office boy went to the editor of the Soaring Eagle and said:

"There is a tramp at the door, and he says he has had nothing to eat for six days."

"Fetch him in," said the editor. "If we can find out how he does it we can run this blamed paper for another week!"

The Prisoner.

An inspector arrived unexpectedly at a Scottish jail. He asked the solitary warder for the governor. "He's away fushin'," was the answer.

"Well, I'll see the prisoners," said the inspector.

"Him! He's out, sir."

"Out? The prisoner out? Why, has he escaped?"

"Ach, no, sir; he's just awa' wi' the governor, at the fushin', carryin' the bag."

MR. ROOSEVELT NOT CANDIDATE

Republicans Must Find Another Man for Nomination of President in 1908, So President Said Recently

(Washington Post Nov. 11)

Before starting on his trip to Panama the president, during an informal political discussion which occurred at the White House, took occasion to reiterate his assertion that no combination of circumstances could induce him to become a candidate for re-election in 1908.

Several prominent public men were present, having called to spend the evening and the president's declaration came while they were speculating about the next republican nominee. One of the visitors had alluded to the frequent suggestions that Mr. Roosevelt would be the logical man to head the ticket year after next, and that elicited from him a candid statement concerning his own sentiments on the subject.

The president said that while he appreciated the compliment implied in the proposal that he be a candidate to succeeed himself, and realized that it was made in good spirit, his decision to retire at the conclusion of his present term was irrevocable. He thoroughly subscribed to the time-honored tradition that the president of the United States should not serve more than two terms, and, as he has said before, he regarded this as his second term. Moreover, in so far as fame was concerned, he was certain he could achieve no more than he had already acquired, and then there was the chance that the popular esteem he now enjoyed might reach the vanishing point, as happened in the case of President Cleveland before he concluded his second term.

The president stated, futhermore, that he was not so possessed of self-esteem as to believe the policies he has been pursuing could not be carried to their logical conclusion by his successor, whoever he may be.

Officials of the administration who are most intimate with the president do not now consider the possibility, to say nothing of the probability, of his heading the republican ticket in 1908. They are wholly reconciled to the fact that he will retire beyond all doubt in March, 1909, and are beginning to do some earnest calculating upon the chances of other available men.

AN AGED PHYSICIAN.

After Years of Experience Gives the Following Advice.

"If you have anything to do with medicines at all, be pretty sure you know what you are taking."

Our local druggist, R. R. Bellamy, says this is a strong point in favor of their valuable cod liver preparation, Vinol. Everything it contains it plainly printed on the label, therefore it is not a patent medicine.

Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron which is a needful constituent for the blood, added.

This is the reason that Vinol accomplishes such wonderful results in curing chronic coughs, colds, bronchial and lung troubles and there is nothing known to medicine that will so quickly build up the run down, overworked tired and debilitated or give strength and renewed vitality to the aged,as Vinol.

We can only ask every person in Wilmington, who needs such a medicine to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails. Robert R. Bellamy, druggist.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fall River, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

The most famous strike breakers in the land are Dr. King's New Life Pills. When liver and bowels go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. Best cure for constipation, headache, and dizziness. 25c at Bellamy's drug store.

GROWING POWER OF NEGRO VOTE

Now Holds Balance of Power in Several Important States—Result of Emigration of Blacks From South

(Raleigh News and Observer)

Washington, D. C., Nov., 10.—The negro vote in this county is becoming more and more powerful each year. This situation is the result of the growing immigration of the black man from the south to the states of the north. That this immigration is increasing is demonstrated by census figures and hardly permits of controversy. The result, in the opinion of many people will be that the colored vote will be the absolute determining factor in the elections of the debatable states, if this northern movement of the negro continues as it has in the past.

A statement that was issued by the republican congressional campaign committee shows the importance and growing influence of the negro in politics. It is the only statement of the kind indicating the power of the black electorate in this country. The introduction to the table of figures says: "Negro population and vote in states where disfranchisement laws have not been enacted and where the negro vote is a factor in the solution of the political equation."

These figures show that there are more negro voters in the state of Tennessee than in any other state in the Union. The negro vote in that state totals 112,236. Kentucky comes next with 74,728 black votes. The third state in point of numbers is Maryland, with a total vote of 60,406. Pennsylvania has 51,668 negro voters and Missouri 46,418. The colored vote in the state of New York was sufficient to turn the tide of the election in favor of Hearst had he received the support of the 31,425 colored electors. In Illinois the black vote is 29,762 and in Ohio 31,225. When it is considered that the negro vote in the east was cast with practical solidarity for the republican party, it is easy to see how the 21,474 negro votes in New Jersey could have made possible the election of a democratic legislature, resulting in the election of a democrat to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Dryden. The negro vote in other states that have an important bearing on the national election follows: Kansas 14,695, West Virginia 14,786, Massachusetts 10,456, Delaware 8,374, Michigan 5,193, Connecticutt 4,576, Iowa 4,441, California 3,711, Colorado 3,215, Nebraska 2,298, Rhode Island 2,765.

The negro vote in the states that have disfranchised the black man is not given, for the reason that it has no influence on the national results.

Kidney Troubles Attack Men and Women, Old and Young Alike.

Kidney ills seize young and old alike—
Quickly come and little warning give.
Children suffer in their early years
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Robust men have lame and aching backs.
Old folks, weak, rheumatic, lame,
Endure distressing urinary ills.
The cure for man, for woman, or for child.
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys
Cure all the varied forms of kidney suffering.
Wilmington testimony guarantees every box.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South Sixth street, mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brick-dust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and in fact Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Alban's, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c.

OUR BUSINESS

This Season

Has Been an Agreeable Surprise. to Us.

Considering the short cotton crops in the country, the low prices prevailing in the lumber market and the scarcity of money throughout the country, we were very much afraid that we would have a very large fall off in business this season which we did not feel that we could afford to accept.

We double our esolution, bought heavier in every department, made profits smaller and felt that we would make an effort to outdo any previous year.

The immense stock of goods that we carry, extra values we are offering with the additional help of the best kind, our sales now have run away ahead of last season.

We have hundreds of customers, but we want more.

In our store is arranged a splendid premium department that belongs directly to us.

These premiums are in charge of a young lady who keeps them in perfect order and redeems your stamp book or your punch card with pleasure.

We do not feel as if it is something given away. Simply this; we give you what others give us. We pay cash and get the discount and give it to you. Ask to see the premiums we have to give and we feel sure you will find it to your advantage to buy goods from us.

Compare our prices in any line and you will find them much less than those of our competitors.

In our millinery department we trim all hats we sell free and give and give you the lining and box extra.

Our cloak and fur department has been a wonderful success.

The sales girl in this department carries the blue ribbon of the town.

We think we sell as many cloaks as all the rest of the town put together. There are two reasons why we should do so, first; we carry the stock which makes it worth your while to examine before buying elsewhere. Second: our prices are not matched. If ladies are looking around to buy a cloak and get the prices first from other stores, e sell the cloak, and also the furs. This line is an elegant one. Our stock in furs runs as low as 98c each for fur collars. We are also offering clipped Cony Furs with nine tails in black at $2.25 and in brown at $2.98 which is the natural colors with no dye. The sable fox with two large tails we are showing at $5.50 and the double fox without the heads at $9.75. We have these in collarette shapes, with head and two tails hanging down the back and two whole foxes for the front. We have a full assortment in fur collars and muffs from $4 a set to $24 a set. Also a beautiful line of children's furs with collars and muffs to match, as low as $2.25 a set up to $8 a set.

Our fur department is stocked from the best houses in the United States and none of them are cheap, shoddy furs, but well made and in the latest and prettiest shapes. Examine our stock and it will surprise you to see how cheap they are.

The young ladies in the millinery department would be glad to have you see their line of hats, ribbons and velvets. They are very busy but we can take good care of you if you care to give us a trial. There is not a day passes that we do not receive new goods in this department. New hats direct from the factory, new velvets in all colors. We have a beautiful velvet at 75c a yard, a very good one at 50c a yard and up, a splendid assortment of ribbons at all prices. We are showing a real nice plaid ribbon at 10c, 15c, 19c and 25c a yard; No 100 Dreden ribbon at 10c and we handle a big line of fine ribbons width 200 which we sell for 19c, 25c and 35c a yard. Also a special line of black ribbon.

In our ladies' and children's underwear department you will find almost everything from the tiniest infant's wrapper up to the largest No. 9 vest made. To buy underwear we will ask you to see our line. We control the Mentor line for this city, also the Snug Fit line and we have a full assortment of woolen and cotton union suits and red and white flannel vests and pants.

Ask for stamps with every purchase and spend your money where you can get the best value.

SEABOARD OFFICIALS HERE

President Walter and Members of the Board of Directors Here.

President Alfred Walter, members of the Board of Directors and several high officials of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, traveling on a special train of three private cars, reached the city Sunday afternoon and remained a part of yesterday in the city. The officials are making a tour of the system and came to Wilmington as one of the important terminals on the road. Their coming was known to comparatively few in Wilmington else some sort of entertainment would have been shown them by the business men of the town. They remained about the Seaboard station during their stay in the city, except a short while spent with the officials of the Coast Line at general headquarters of that system in this city.

The special was brought into Wilmington by Conductor J. R. Stephens and the train left yesterday afternoon returning to Hamlet. From there the party will continue their inspection trip South.

"THE PRINCESS OF PARIS."

Rose Mayo Will Present New Play at Academy Tonight.

Rose Mayo, an emotional actress of rare power, whose impersonations of tragic roles, have caused the critics to herald her as one of America's foremost tragediennes, will appear at the Academy of Music tonight in the three act romantic drama, "The Princess of Paris," by Jean Barrymoore, supported by a metropolitan cast. Handsome scenery is used in the production of this powerful play of the Napoleonic period. Miss Mayo's tour is directed by Snow & Wilson from the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York.

Seats are now on sale. There is no advance in prices.

LOCAL DOTS.

—By deed filed for record yesterday J. O. Powers and wife transferred to B. C. Hemby, for $210, property on west side of Fourth street, 132 feet north of Dawson street, 33 x 66 feet in size.

—William McKay, a negro pickpocket, was arrested early yesterday afternoon on the show grounds by City Detective Robert Green. The negro was pointed out by a showman and Capt. Green lost no time in sending him down to the station house.

—The Baltimore steamer George W. Weems arrived in port yesterday with a miscellaneous cargo for Wilmington consignees. The British steamer Glenwood cleared yesterday for Havre, France, with a cargo of 6,000 bales of cotton, consigned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

—Miss Edith Mabel Chinnis, daughter of Mr. T. B. Chinnis, and Mr. W. S. Cook, both of Brunswick county, were married in this city yesterday. It was a very quiet affair and only a few friends were present. The couple will make their home in Brunswick county.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Circle of the King's Daughters will be held at the residence of Mrs. James H. Chadbourn, South Third street, this morning at 11 o'clock. A full attendance is requested, as there is to be an election of officers for the ensuing year.

—In the show window at A. Shirer's devoted to a display of the Regal Shoe may be seen exact copies of 14 noted crown jewels, valued at $6,425,000, the originals of which are owned by the world's most celebrated rulers. They are said to be perfect imitations and are worth seeing.

—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmore, 708 North Fifth street, tender deepest sympathy in the death of their infant daughter, Agnes T., which occurred yesterday at the family home. The funeral will be conducted this morning and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

—There were 15 defendants before the Mayor yesterday, but none of the cases was especially important. Maggie Macks and Ellen Evans, both colored, and arrested by Officer Leon George, were fined $10 and costs. Mary Furguson, colored, was given 30 days for being disorderly.

—In a private letter from Hon. H. L. Godwin, Congressman-elect from this district, he desires to make public acknowledgement of his thanks to the people for their cordial support of him. Mr. Godwin led the ticket in Harnett, his home county. J. H. Williams, for treasurer and himself, polled 1,322 votes. It was a very handsome endorsement of Mr. Godwin by his own people.

—A sailor on the schooner Nimbus at the wharf of the Springer Coal Co., went aboard early last night in a very drunken condition, threatening to exterminate the crew. He fell through a hatch to the hold of the vessel and was painfully lacerated about the head. Captain Stahl had the belligerent member of the crew arrested and locked up for a hearing before the Mayor today at noon. He was sent first to the hospital, however, for repairs.

BARQUE LAUNBERGA SOLD.

Norwegain Vessel and Cargo Bid in Yesterday by Mr. Louis H. Skinner

The Norwegian barque Launberga, 1,213 tons, Captain Johnson, lumber laden from Pensacola, Fla., to Rio Janeiro, which went ashore on Frynig Pan Shoals just after the storm of September 21st, and which was towed into Southport where she was subsequently libelled for a salvage claim by one of the steamers of Cape Fear Fisheries Company, was sold yesterday at auction by United States Marshal Dockery by order of the Federal Court. The cargo consisting of 900,000 feet of lumber was bid in by Mr. Louis H. Skinner, of Wilmington, for $11,000 and the vessel went to the purchaser for $3,100.

The sale took place at the Custom House door in this city and there were a number of bidders besides Mr. Skinner. Among them were Messrs. George W. Kidder, W. H. Chadbourn and H. A. Kure. The vessel and cargo is sold just as they are in the harbor at Southport. The sale is, of course, subject to confirmation of the court. Mr. Skinner stated yesterday that he did not know what he would do with the property. He would not say if he was representing some one else in the purchase. It will be recalled that the Launberga struck the shoal on Frying Pan and while she was there it became necessary to jettison a part of the cargo and cut away the masts and rigging of the ship. She is a very fine model vessel.

An Automobile Smash-up.

While out driving in his automobile with four other young men Saturday night, at Fourteenth and Market streets, Mr. D. Russell Foster had a narrow escape from a bad collision with a vehicle of some sort in the road. The machine was thrown over and Mr. J. E. Porter, one of the young men in the auto, had two fingers broken and also sustained other injuries which necessitated his being sent to the hospital. The machine was damaged to the extent of about $100.

CONDITION OF JAIL.

Board of Physicians Have Not Yet Reported—State Charities.

The Board of Physicians of New Hanover, who on Saturday made an examination of the sanitary condition of the jail at the request of the Board of County Commissioners in view of the arraignment of conditions by Judge Purnell in the Federal Court recently, had not made report of their inspection yesterday but the official announcement of conditions as they found them is expected within the next few days. The report of the physicians is expected to carry great weight from the fact that Dr. Thomas, who is one of the number of physicians is a member of the State Board of Health and the others are among the leading physicians of the city.

Messrs. A. G. Hankins and John D. Kerr, members of the State Board of Charities for this county, yesterday morning about 8 o'clock went to the jail and made their annual inspection of the premises.

Fire Early Last Night.

At 5:59 o'clock yesterday evening the Fire Department was called out in response to an alarm from box 49, Fifth and Castle streets. A small dwelling at 512 South Fourth street, owned by James Reilly and occupied by Mary Turner, colored, was damaged to the extent of about $150. The loss is covered by insurance.

NEWS FROM RALEIGH.

Development Company For Lumberton—No Bond For Bivens.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 12.—A charter was issued to-day for the Atlantic Improvement Co., of Lumberton, having for its purpose the development of timber and trucking lands, esepcially the reclaiming of swamp lands for agricultural purposes, the building of railroads and turnpikes. The capital is $150,000 authorized, the incorporators being J. F. Armfield, H. Townsend and W. D. Armfield, of Fayetteville.

Associate Justice George H. Brown this afternoon declined to grant the writ of hebeas corpus to the Seaboard Policeman H. J. Bivens, charged with shooting the unknown stranger on a train of the company some time ago. Justice Brown gave the opinion that the dead man was shot while he was running and that there was no reason why Bivens should be admitted to bail.

Samuel Burton, a Seaboard Air Line engineer, and Miss Josephine Brichouse, of Raleigh, were arrested this afternoon at the instance of an alleged first wife of Burton, who is living in Norfolk, Va., it being charged that Burton up to the time of his arrest was living with the Brichouse woman as his wife. The father of the engineer's wife at Norfolk has instituted suit for divorce in behalf of his daughter.

WASTEFUL AMERICA.

We Are, So It Is Charged, a Most Prodigal People.

Americans are the opposites of the Japanese in that they are probably the most wasteful and extravagant people under the sun. James J. Hill once voiced a declaration to the effect that the greater part of America's progress had been gained by using up the stored capital of preceding ages—something for which we are indebted to nature, not to our own energies. Soil, mines, oil and gas reservoirs, forests, fisheries—all have been drained and drained, with little or no thought that exhaustion of either was calculable. We eat three times as much as is demanded by nature and more than is good for us, and we throw away annually enough to feed the whole population of Japan. Into our rivers in the form of polluting sewage go fertilizers to the value of millions, which other peoples save and which we would be doubly benefited by saving. We could economize greatly if we cared to in the quantity of iron and other metals we use; but, possessed with the infatuation that they will never "run out," we are as prodigal with them as with everything else, whereas the limit of the supply is claimed to be easily calculable.

But it is in the waste of the forests that American improvidence finds its worst illustration. The nation has been willing to see its forests so devastated that the present annual "cut" and fire waste cannot be continued for twenty-five years longer without destroying every patch of timber in America.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

Why He Came.

A man rushed into the barber shop and jumped into the first waiting chair, explaining, "Shave in a hurry." The barber was about to apply the lather when he noticed the customer's face. It had been shaved in spots and looked like a wornout hair rug. "I beg your pardon," said the barber, "but whoever shaved you did not understand his business or must have been near-sighted." "That's all right," replied the customer rather sharply. "Every man to his trade—you are a barber—well, I am not—that's why I came here."

No More Shoes Sent Out On Approval

AFTER DECEMBER 1ST.

At a meeting of the Shoe Dealers of this city, the following resolutions were adopted:

"That the present method of our sending out Shoes on approval is injurious to our business advancement, and it being self-evident to us that the same is abused and, believing as we do, that this can be adjusted in a manner satisfactory to ourselves and our customers, and, knowing as we do, that the only satisfactory way for a customer to fit him or herself, is to try his or her shoes on in the store, where the different widths and sizes and styles may be tried and a fit assured, and being desirous, as we are, that our customers be given the benefit of our study and knowledge of the Shoe business, we do hereby agree, that on and after the first day of December, 1906, we will not send out any shoes on approval in this city, that is 'Deliver to any person or persons for trial at their home or residence, or for their inspection or for an anticipated sale.'

"That as a guarantee of our good faith and intentions, we do hereby bind ourselves under a cash forfeit of $50.00, said forfeit to be paid, one-half to the informer and one-half to the association, upon conviction of our having violated or broken our agreement."

General MacKenzie Chief of Engineers Recommedts $450,000 for the Cape Fear

16,052,431 FOR DEFENSES

Immense Sum Required to Complete Fortifications Projected—$250,000 For Cape Fear at and Below Wilmington—$200,000 Above City

(By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Gen. Alexander McKenzie, chief of engineers, has reported to the Secretary of War that $16,052,431 will be required to complete the engineer work upon the fortifications projected by the board convened under the President's order of January 31, 1905.

In stating the amounts which he says can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year in river and harbor improvement, he included the following items:

James river, Virginia $200,000; Cape Fear river, above Wilmington, N. C., locks and dams $200,000; Cape Fear river at and below Wilmington, N. C., $250,000; Savannah river, Georgia, $110,000; harbor at Pensacola $100,000; Alabama river, Alabama, $100,000 Mobile harbor, Alabama, $372,000; Black Warrior and Tom Bigbee rivers, Alabama, $753,000; Pascagoula river, Mississippi $200,000.

THE NEW STATE GIVES G. O. P. PAINS

Returns Disappointing to Leaders—Vote Indicates that Five Members of House and Two Senators Will be Democrats.

Washington Post.)

The election returns from Oklahoma are disappointing to republican managers. Congress fixed the boundaries of the congresional districts for the first election of members of the House in the enabling act, and it was believed that two, and possibly three, of the districts would be republican. Two of them were estimated to be democratic beyond a doubt.

The vote cast in the territory last Tuesday was for members of the constitutional convention, but party lines were drawn strictly, and the convention that will convene on the 20th of this month will be overwhelmingly democratic. The vote indicates that when it comes to the election of members of congress all five of the members will be democrats, thus eliminating even the district carved out for Delegate Maguire, which was thought to be impregnable to all democratic assaults.

The vote indicates also that there may be two democratic senators from Oklahoma. While such a result will not interfere with the general control of the senate by the republicans by a large majority, it will reduce their preponderance to less than two-thirds and necessitate taking some democrats into consideration in such matters as the ratification of treaties and other questions which are determined only by a two-thirds vote of the senate.

The yielding on the part of congress to the prohibition sentiment is claimed by many to be the chief cause for the democratic strength that developed in Oklahoma. When the enabling act was before the House, the republicans, under pressure, inserted a proviso enforcing prohibition. The republicans were held responsible for this, and some of the party leaders at the time, not having the courage publicly to oppose the amendment, asserted privately their belief that it would cost the party the vote of the new state. That prophecy promises to be fulfilled.

WALKING THROUGH FIRE.

Frenzied Rites of Hindoo Devotees In Singapore.

How Hindoo devotees in Singapore walk over glowing coals is described by a writer in the Straits Budget of that city. He says: "Several wood fires had been lighted on the right side of the temple and by 4 o'clock these had been reduced to glowing embers. The priests spread these out in the same manner as an athletic ground is prepared with sand for a long jump. Beyond this a shallow pond was dug and was filled with water from jars. The gods were then carried out and were placed near the small pond facing the redhot embers. An unfortunate young white goat was smeared with saffron and was held by two men on the ground just at the edge of the embers. These live embers were very hot and the heat could be felt half a dozen yards away. Two men seized the miserable goat, one by the head and the other by the hind legs. A third man knelt with a huge, heavy chopper, shaped like a scythe. As the devotees approached nearer he raised the cruel knife above his head and brought it down with a sickening swish on the neck of the poor goat, severing its head from the body instantly. One man then snatched up the struggling and bleeding body and placed it in front of the gods. The other Hindoo followed with the head. It was a grewsome sight and was greeted with howls and shouts.

"By this time the devotees had worked themselves up to a great state of frenzy. A strange pallor had come over them—their faces were set, with staring eyes. They raved like madmen and struggled to get forward to the gods. One by one the priests released them, and like savages they rushed through the glowing embers with bare feet, then through the pond of water and finally danced about in front of the idols. Here two priests scourged them with ropes. Several collapsed on reaching their goal. None of them showed any signs of suffering. Some walked slowly through the embers and one fanatic fell in them in his delirium and was seized by the priests and thrown into the water.

"Lastly the women walked through. They did not appear to be in such a state of frenzy as the men. One comely young woman carried an infant in her arms. When the last woman had walked through, the priests threw the muddy water from the pond on to the still glowing embers. The devotees rushed up and, seizing the embers in their hands, threw them in the air, and the ghastly ceremony was at an end."

Trades and Disease.

"Every trade has its peculiar disease," said a detective. "Thus a criminal's malady will often afford a valuable clew to his identity.

"Blacksmiths are liable to paralysis of the right side, due to the shock of hammering with the sledge, and they are also liable to weak eyes, due to the glare of the forge.

"Carpenters are liable to varicose veins because they stand so much, and continuous sawing tends to injure the artery that carries the blood from the heart to the carpenter's right arm.

"Bakers and miners, the one through the white dust of flour and the other through the black dust of coal, get weak lungs. Miners get weak eyes, too, from working always in the dark.

"Coopers get swollen knees from pressing them against barrels. This, though, is nothing like so bad a swelling as housemaids develop from the kneeling that scrubbing entails.

"India rubber workers are to be pitied, for they suffer from headaches and mental depression, due to the rubber fumes.

"Painters are the most unfortunate of all. They get lead poisoning, a disease that is often fatal."

A PLANET OF GREAT PEAKS.

Peculiarity of the Ring Mountains of the Moon.

The moon is really and truly a great planet of mountains, its whole visible surface being dotted with elevations of curious shapes and of extraordinary height. We say "its whole visible surface" and hasten to explain that we make this statement simply because the eye of man has never seen but one side of the surface of the moon. What we see convinces us that the little planet is extremely mountainous, for on the "end" exposed to our view there are no less than 30,000 peaks, varying in height from 2,000 feet to four miles. When we consider the fact that this lunarian world is only one thirty-second part as large as the earth we can easily see why it deserves the title of the "planet of great mountains." There is a peculiar thing about these 30,000 moon peaks. Each and every one of them has a ringlike form, the open end of the conical point being of greater or lesser diameter, according to the height of the mountain. In a low grade telescope these peaks resemble true volcanoes, but when viewed through a high grade glass it is seen that the depression in the center of the queer "ring mountain" is often so great as to be below the general level of the surrounding country. The depth of these depressions is calculated in a curious manner, by figuring on the relative shadows they cast when the sun is shining full upon them. The diameter of these "ring mountains" varies greatly, some of the larger ones being 50, 100 or even 150 miles, while the smaller look like post holes when viewed through a good telescope.

MARKING TRUNKS.

Odd Devices Used by Which to Easily Identify Baggage.

A curious fashion of marking trunks by some individual and odd device has come into practice. It is a trick that helps to identify one's baggage instantly, even at a distance, in a crowded railway station, and thus facilitates travel, especially abroad, where so much red tape entangles baggage transportation.

Some of the devices used are queer, to say the least. A lover of dogs had big brindle's heads in brown and white painted at intervals on all her trunks and suit cases before sailing for Germany. She felt sure, she said, that she would be able to identify her baggage anywhere by these signs.

Another curious design is that of skull and crossbones, done in black, white and red, on top, sides and ends of trunk and on the bottom of every bag of one traveler.

Dumbbell designs in red, white and blue identify another lot of baggage.

One society woman has her trunks all marked with a design of a pair of gloves, painted red, black and gold, and appearing as if just taken off the hand and carelessly tossed in the trunk.

Family crests in gold and colors are used, and college girls going abroad have curious Chinese dragons, birds, etc., done in oriental color combinations on their baggage. — New York Mail.

Studio Manners Bad.

"Why do you dip your own spoon into the general sugar bowl?" asked the particular woman of the bachelor girl.

"I don't know," replied the bachelor girl plaintively, "unless it is because my studio life is corrupting my good manners. When you eat your breakfast all by yourself and there's nobody else to dip a spoon into the sugar bowl and it's all your own spoon and all your own sugar bowl and there's nobody to see or to care, why, you are almost bound to get careless and forget and dip it into other sugar bowls, aren't you?"—New York Press.

Sculptors' Potboilers.

They were walking past a beautiful pink and white house in New York whose door cap was most exquisitely carved. The sculptor pointed to it. "My work," he said. "That's the potboiling I do while I work on my masterpiece. It is nothing unusual with sculptors to do such work. Two of the finest pieces that were sold to the Metropolitan museum last winter were done by a man whose regular business it is to make door caps."

ON OCEAN'S BED.

What Becomes of Ships Which Sink to the Bottom of the Sea.

What becomes of the ship that sinks in midocean? If it is of wood it takes, in the first place, considerable time for it to reach the bottom. In a hundred or more fathoms of water a quarter of an hour will elapse before the ship reaches bottom. It sinks slowly, and when the bottom is reached it falls gently into the soft, oozy bed, with no crush or breaking.

Of course if it is laden with pig iron or corresponding substances or if it is an iron ship it sinks rapidly and sometimes strikes the bottom with such force as to smash in pieces. Once sunken a ship becomes the prey of the countless inhabitants of the ocean.

They swarm over and through the great boat and make it their home. Besides this they cover every inch of the boat with a thick layer of lime. This takes time, of course, and when one generation dies another continues the work until finally the ship is so laden with heavy incrustations, corals, sponges and barnacles that if wood the creaking timbers fall apart and slowly but surely are absorbed in the waste at the sea bottom.

Iron vessels are demolished more quickly than those of wood, which may last for centuries. The only metals that withstand the chemical action of the waves are gold and platinum, and glass also seems unaffected. No matter how long gold may be hidden in the ocean, it will always be gold when recovered, and this fact explains the many romantic and adventurous searches after hidden submarine treasures lost in shipwrecks.

ST. HELENA.

The Transformation of This Once Barren Volcanic Waste.

St. Helena was a barren volcanic waste at the time Napoleon was sent there. The Englishmen were there, however, to stay and for duty, and, though they had a hard scramble for every drop of water they used, they set about a beginning of making something grow toward sustaining life, or at least modifying its conditions. Gradually, by slow degrees, but surely, their efforts were successful. Kindly nature requires but little encouragement, and the dews fell and crystallized, and the herbage and shrubbery spread, and little trees took root and shed their seed, and the mountain in the long course of years became largely covered, until at last this one time waterless heap of waste products of a lifeless volcano became able to provide millions upon millions of gallons of water, which is stored in its caverns, for the ships that pass to and from the Cape of Good Hope and to Australia, and beneath the shades of umbrageous terraces, high up in the cool air, the invalided soldier from tropical Africa and India and the orient finds a restoring sanitarium which has brought back to health and life many a weary soul and stricken body. Truly there is magic in the rain and healing in the forests!—Outing Magazine.

Hadrian's Wall.

Hadrian in A. D. 120 built a stone wall from Bowness, near Carlisle, on Solway frith, to the river Tyne, near Newcastle. It was eighty miles long and garrisoned by 10,000 troops. It was twelve to twenty feet high at various points, eight feet thick at the top and provided with a gallery in the rear which enabled its defenders to take their stand with only head and shoulders visible to the enemy. At every quarter of a mile there was a castle with a garrison of troops. Beacon lights and signals were used, and on an attack, whether by day or by night, the news was at once flashed up and down the wall from sea to sea.—London Sphere.

Too Busy to Whistle.

It is said the art of whistling will soon be counted among the lost unless there is a revival of the cheery spirit that seems to be forsaking men. Nobody whistles as he works in these strenuous days. He has too much on his mind to pucker his lips in a whistle. Nor does he hum or sing to himself for that matter. Life is, if not downright sad, too busy for that joyous and unconscious expression of contentment.—Boston Herald.

Mr. Thomas Perdue from 15 acres of corn gathered 120 barrels, which was an average of 8 barrels per acre."

—Littleton, Nov. 10:—The barn and stables of Mr. Jack Johnson were burned this morning about 1 o'clock together with 11 mules, three horses, forty barrels of corn and a lot of feed. Mr. Johnson is a young farmer and merchant living seven miles from town, and works many tenants on his farm. He has no enemies as we are aware of, as he is very popular with all classes. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Johnson. His loss is etimated at $5,000.

—Sanford, Nov., 11—At a special meeting of the board of aldermen of the town of Sanford, a franchise was granted the Buckhorn Power Company to enter the town. Under this franchise this company is to furnish lights by December 20th, and power for manufacturing plants by July 1st, 1907, though it is expected that light and power both will be furnished sooner. The light plant here was entirely destroyed by fire two weeks ago, leaving the town in darkness.

—Asheville, Nov., 11.—William E. Breese, J. E. Dickerson and Henry Penland, officials of the defunct First National Bank of Asheville, must again stand trial on a charge of wrecking the bank and embezzling the funds. This statement is made on high authority. Although the government officials are reticent relative to the bringing to trial again of Messrs. Breese, Dickerson and Penland, it is known that the cases will be called at Charlotte and that they will either be called at the next term of court or at a special term to be held after the regular term.

—Spencer, Nov., 10.—Five negroes were drowned in the Yadkin river three miles north of Spencer, late last night. Their names are as follows: Dave Sears, Carrie Sears and Jack Rattz. All were tenants of a farm at Hanner's Ferry. They held a corn shucking last night and got drunk. After a frolic the four started across the river. The canoe in which they were crossing the stream capsized far from the shore and all were lost in twenty feet of water. Their bodies had not been recovered this afternoon thorugh searching parties worked all day. The drowning was witnessed by several negroes who were on the bank of the river, but they were powerless to rescue the victims. It is believed that the boat turned over on account of the carelessness of the negroes, all of whom, it is said, were drinking.

—Raleigh News and Observer—Nov. 11.—The official returns of the election last Tuesday show that the democrats carried the state by forty-eight thousand majority. At no time during the campaign did even the most sanguine Democrat predict that the majority this year would be anything like as large as 49,256, the majority which Governor Glenn received in 1904. The best posted and most sanguine leaders like State Chairman Simmons, expected as high water mark a majority of about 41,679, the majority which Judge Parker had over Roosevelt in 1904. That majority in the "off year," when in half the counties the victory for the democratic local ticket was plain sailing, would have been regarded by the democrats as a complete and magnificent victory. The republicans have all along pointed to the Roosevelt vote as evidencing the real strength of the republican party in the state, and the democrats figured that if in this off year they could register a majority of 41,000 they would score one of the most remarkable victories in the history of the state. They have registered that majority and added seven thousand to it, thus coming within 1,200 of the great majority received by Governor Glenn in 1904.

—Winston-Salem, Nov., 11.—The Walker Bros., property on Fourth street which is composed of two commodious factories, one 40 by 90 feet, four stories high, and the other 50 by 130, five stories, has been purchased by the Jenkins Bros., Shoe Co., and about February 1st they will move their manufacturing plant now located in Salem and occupy these buildings. The growing demand for the product of their present factory necessitates considerable more room than where they are at present located and which is evidence that southern-made footwear is growing in popularity. The Jenkins Bros., Co., to the present have confined themselves to a line of shoes most suitable for farmers and mechanics, but the success they have met with in this encouraged them to attempt next year a different class of goods, in the way of a light weight line for women and children. The capacity of their new plants will be about 1,500 pairs per day. It is the intention of the concern to considerably increase their business and to travel next year 12 to 15 men, covering several southern states.

—Mt. Airy, Nov. 10.—Last night about one mile west of town an outrageous assault was committed. As Mr. W. J. Turner and Misses Bethania Ashby and Minnie Burke were returning from a social gathering at Mr. B. M. McGee's, a farmer living a mile or two from town, at a point near the Old Hollow Church, a man in a crouching position by the roadside sprang out and attempted to seize the buggy lines from Mr. Turner. Meeting with strong resistance and the horse springing out of reach of the unrecognized assailant, he began shooting at them as they drove towards town. As many as ten to fifteen shots were fired. Two bullets struck Miss Ashby, inflicting serious, but it is hoped not fatal wounds. Near the scene of the shooting there was a load of blockade whiskey which was seized by the officers later in the night and brought to town. Suspicion rested upon Elmo Brim, who was arrested, tried this afternoon and committed to jail without bail, pending such time as is necessary for the physicians to determine the consequences of the wounds. There is no possible motive for young Brim to have assaulted the parties. From the evidence brought out on the trial it is conclusive that he mistook them in the darkness for other parties whom he intended to assault. The people of the whole community are terribly indignant over the outrageous affair.

—Reidville, Nov. 10.—During the first three days of Rockingham Superior Court R. P. Richardson, Jr., Ed E. Richardson and E. R. Walters filed their complaint as co-plaintiffs against the Richardson Company, a New Jersey corporation, respecting the temporary injunction of the Chancery Court of New Jersey. The defendant and the American Tobacco Company were represented by an array of distinguished counsel, who arrived on Thursday morning, being headed by Mr. Burrow, of New York, assistant general counsel; Hon. Frank Fuller, of Durham; Mr. Staples Fuller, of Pou & Fuller, Raleigh; Hon. Clement Manly, of Winston; Messrs. Scott & Reid, of Reidville. Plaintiffs were represented by Col. James T. Morehead, of Greensboro; and Hon. A. J. Burton, of Reidville. Hon. C. B. Watson, who also represents the plaintiffs, was detained in Winston by illness. The defendants entered a special appearance today and moved dismissal of the cause. The motion was denied. Thereupon the defendants entered a general appearance and moved for removal to the Federal court. This motion was also denied. Defendants asked time to answer the complaint. Six ty days was granted. This is a Waterloo for the American Tobacco Co. The suit was brought by R. P. Richardson & Co., (Inc.,) and R. P. Richardson, Jr., Ed E. Richardson and E. R. Walters as individuals against the American Tobacco Company on the 13th day of September for the revision of contract and other relief.

—Beaufort, Nov., 10.—The ideal weather of the past week brought pleasure and profit to the fishermen at Beaufort and Morehead City. Hardly a breeze, much less any wind, has prevailed off the coast here, and there has been unruffled sea. The calmness has started vast quantities of shrimp from the inlets and sounds, to the ocean, and the presence of these shrimp has attracted great numbers of gray trout, which have gorged themselves, and in turn fishermen have been attracted to pursue and catch with hook and line the trout. The quantity of shrimp can be realized when early in the week at one place, outside the Beaufort bar, in the ocean, there was seen an area estimated at five acres in extent, that appeared to be solid shrimp. The fishermen here and at Morehead have had a great week. Sail boats, row boats, every kind of power launches and sharpies have been outside, filled with eager fishermen, who with hook and line have caught countless gray trout, that were feeding upon the shrimp. At one time over one hundred of these various kinds of boats were seen off the Beaufort bar. The catches have all been large. One set seine was hauled in with 12,000 pounds of trout. On Monday, two men in a boat with hook and line, caught fish that sold for $80. Two other men in a boat with hook and line caught $8 worth of trout in an hour and a half. These are but sample instances of the fish caught. It has caused tremendous fishing enthusiasm among the people of the two towns, besides the profit which has come from the catches.

"Wilson Heaters"

(Only Highest Grade Materials Used.

The Wilson Heater will produce more heat from a unit of fuel, and keep your home at a more even temperature, with little or no trouble, and fewer ashes than any other heater made.

There is no Noxious Gas, Offensive Smoke or Cold Floor Draft where the Wilson Coal Heater is used.

Holds fire 36 hours or longer. The combustation is perfect—the heat does not go up the chimney. Burns every particle of the coal; does not make clinkers and leaves very little ash. Other stoves look much like the Wilson, but—that's all. None of them work like the Wilson and none are so good.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Nov. 12.—The cotton market was steady and closed very steady at a net advance of 21 to 24 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 350,000 bales. The opening was steady at an advance of 2 points on steady cables. At first there was some irregularity with selling encouraged by rumors that a local operator just returned from the South would issue a bearish crop estimate but this estimate when published proved to be for 12,725,000 bales, which was a little under expectations and the market during the later trading ruled steady to firm on covering of shorts. After advancing to 9.62 for January and 9.77 for March there was a reaction of about 10 points under realizing but the market firmed up again in the afternoon on buying of Winter months by spot people and covering by Southern shorts and at one time prices were about 23@27 points net higher, the close being a little down from the best under realizing. The Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-16c and private advices from the South report increasing steadiness among interior holders.

Receipts cotton at the ports to-day 71,929 bales against 79,162 last week and 53,996 last year. For the week 410,000 bales against 422,845 last week and 381,919 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 18,060 bales against 14,571 last year and at Houston 9,560 bales against 9,452 last year.

Spot closed quiet 20 points advance; middling uplands 10.30; middling gulf 10.55; sales 1,800 bales.

THE MAGNETIC POLE.

A New York distpatch on Wednesday announces that on board the Scandinavian line steamship Helig Olay which sailed on Thursday for Christiania are two zinc boxes, guarded by four armed guards. They contain the records made by Capt. Roald Amundsen, who sailed from Christiana three years ago, and located the magnetic pole. From a study of the record, which will take fully three years, Capt. Aumndsen says that the exact location of the magnetic pole will be determined. Photographs were made of the needle for nineteen months by an automatic photographing instrument made especially for the expedition.

Dr. Amundsen's expedition was one of the highest importance and his achievement in making the Northwest Passage was one of great magnitude. His final report will be awaited with intense interest.

ROCK CLIFF LITHIA SPRINGS WATER.

READ WHAT ONE OF THE MOST NOTED CITIZENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA HAS TO SAY OF THE FAMOUS ROCK CLIFF SPRINGS WATER.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 24.

To Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Co.:

Gentlemen:—This will certify that I was severely afflicted with a serious case of erysipelas, that confined me to my bed for about six months or more, with daily attendance of my physician, and which eventually settled in my left leg and became so severe that a consultation of three physicians was held and the decision reached that the lower part of my leg would have to be amputated to prevent the disease extending to the upper part of my leg and body. I declined the operation and was advised to try Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Water. I engaged board near the spring and was advised to bathe my leg in the water, at the same time drinking freely.

This application soon soothed the pain, and for the first time in months previous I slept for about two hours. After a week's treatment, without any medicine or physician's help, I walked to the spring on crutches. I continued the treatment daily, and within two weeks was able to walk to the spring without crutches and in four weeks was able to walk home, a distance of 1½ miles, and resume my official business.

I was permanently cured by the use of the water, and take great pleasure in giving you this testimonial to the efficiency of the Rock Cliff Springs Water in the treatment of erysipelas.

Immigrant Train Crashed Head-On Into Freight Train Forty-Seven Killed or Burned to Death With Wreckage--Fifty-Eight Injured.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chicago, Nov. 12.—More than one-half the passengers on an immigrant train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad were killed and injured in a collision to-day between a passenger train and a freight train near Woodville, Ind.

One hundred and sixty-five passengers were on the train. Of these 47 were killed outright or were burned to death in a fire that broke out in the wreckage immediately after the collision. The names of all the dead will probably never be known as 45 of the bodies were consumedin the flames or were so badly burned that identification would be out of question. Thirty-eight of the people were injured and several of these will die. Eighty others escaped unhurt but lost nearly all their baggage and clothing.

The disaster was caused by a blunder of some employe of the railroad company, but just where the blame lies, has not as yet been determined. The passenger train which was loaded with Russian Jews, Servians and Poles, all recent arrivals in this country and bound for Chicago or points in the Northwest, was the second section of a through train from Baltimore.

The engineer of the freight train No. 96, on instructions received at McCool, Indiana, waited at a siding at Babcock, Ind., to allow the immigrant train to pass. One report is that the engineer of the freight train had not been informed that the passenger train was running in two sections; the other is that the first section of the train carried no lights or signals of any kind, indicating that a second section was close behind.

As soon as the first section of the immigrant train had passed the switch at Babcock, the freight train started eastward. A light snow was falling which increased the darkness of the early morning and the freight was rounding a sharp curve just west of Woodville, when the second section of the train came in sight a short distance away, tearing toward Chicago at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The trains came together with unslackened speed and in the crash, six passenger coaches and several freight cars were knocked into kindling wood, and together with the locomotives went rolling down the ten foot embankment.

Fire broke out almost immediately in the wreckage and although a number of the injured were saved by the desperate efforts of the train crew and surviving passengers, the greater of those who were pinned down in the debris were burned to death. The flames spread throughout the wreckage so rapidly that it was impossible to save a number of people who were only slightly hurt, but were held fast by timbers that weighted them down. These were burned in plain sight of the throng that stood around the scene of the disaster utterly unable to lend assistance in any way. The fire continued until all of the shattered cars were entirely consumed and of the 47 people whose death followed the collision, 45 were burned to ashes. The crash of the collision was so great that a number of farmers and other residents of the neighborhood came hastening to the scene but they could do nothing except lend assistance to the injured who had already been taken from the wreck. All of the six cars of the immigrant train were burned as were three freight cars.

Relief trains were at once sent out from South Chicago and from Valparaiso, Ind., with every available physician, and every posssible aid was given to the injured. A large number of relatives of passengers on the ill-fated train were in Chicago awaiting their arrival and when the report was received that many had been killed and injured in a wreck the scenes around the Baltimore & Ohio depot was harrowing. Men were there who had come to this country to escape the massacres of Russia and who after months of hard work had saved enough to pay the passage of members of their families, and their grief when they became aware that possibly all their sacrifice and effort had resulted only in the death of those whom they had sought to bring to them, was pitiful. Crowds of Russians and Poles awaited around the depot all day for news from Woodville and when, late in the afternoon, a train came in bringing the 38 injured persons, all of whom were taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment, it was with the greatest difficulty that the police were able to open a passage for the wounded. Several of the foreigners became so excited that they attempted to attack depot attaches whose uniforms led them to believe they were employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Among the wounded who were brought to the depot was Mrs. Anna Chysia, who had come from Warsaw to meet her husband who had been working for six months. Mrs. Chysia is blind and her husband recognized her as she was being carried through the crowd by two policemen. Before the officers could prevent him he fell across the stretcher, carrying it to the ground and kissing his wife repeatedly. She recognized his voice and they clung to each other so desperately that it required the efforts of both policemen to force them apart. Chysia struggled so fiercely that it was necessary to place him under arrest. He was released after being taken out of the depot.

At the hospital to-night it was said that it would be impossible for some time to predict the result in the cases of several of the injured.

REIGN OF CRIME AT PITTSBURG

Three Murders, Numerous Robberies and Crucifixion of Young Woman.

POLICE FORCE POWERLESS

Brute Nailed His Wife's Hands to the Sink and She Was Found in Unconscious Condition—Terrible Situation.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Nov., 12.—Pittsburg, terrorized and likened to a mining camp of a frontier town, is the tone of all this morning's issues of the papers. With three murders, a number of robberies on the highway, accompanied by violence and an attempt at crucifixion, in 24 hours, added to the large number that have occurred during the past two weeks, there has been such a public demand for extra police that Mayor Guthrie and Director of Public Safety Ridgway last night put on a number of extra police without legal provision for their compensation. The record for 24 hours, besides the murder of Henry F. Smith, a young business man of the fashionable East End, was shot by burglars, was followed by the robbery of Charles R. Lawrence, early yesterday morning almost in the heart of the city. Nicholas Lewis, of Sharpesburg, a few miles from this city, was also beaten and robbed.

The crucifixion case was brought to light by the screams of a woman in a tenement on Forbes street, near the Jones and Laughlin steel mills. Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Jean Mitchell, 19 years old, in the kitchen huddled in a kneeling position on the floor with both hands nailed to the draining board of the sink, with blood running down her arms. Alongside the hands, lay a hatchet, the weapon which had been used to drive the two big nails and which was then used to draw them out.

The woman was unconscious and was taken to a hospital. When she recovered she merely said that when she entered her flat that morning she was struck on the back of her head and she felt herself drawn towards the sink, her hands pressed against the board and two nails driven in. The police are looking for William Neely, known as William Mitchell, and husband of the woman.

The day's series of violent deaths was further augmented by the death of Sirafia Randuce, an Italian, who was stabbed in a fight among railroad laborers in a boarding house. The others were badly cut up by stilletos and razors. Peter Nazidenci, an Italian, died in the Allegheny hospital from a bullet which was fired by Peter Fodora.

A WARTIME INCIDENT

IT ILLUSTRATED THE GENTLE NATURE OF ROBERT E. LEE.

How the Cool, Calm Commander Helped a Badly Rattled Courier. The General's Kindly Thoughtfulness Under Trying Circumstances.

Not long before the close of the civil war, when General Robert E. Lee had his headquarters near Petersburg, a young man was sent to him with a message from his son, General William H. F. Lee, whose cavalry command was then stationed at G., about forty miles distant. The message was a verbal one to the effect that the son would join the father with his entire cavalry the next morning by 9 o'clock at Rowanta creek, a point below Petersburg on the Weldon railroad. The young man, now long past middle life, tells the story himself:

I was little more than a boy, the youngest and last appointed on the staff of our gallant commander, and in addition to the novelty of it there were two other reasons which made the night's ride the most exciting experience I had ever known—General Lee was my idol, and I had never seen him.

I had to ride fast, and when at last I left my dripping horse at General Lee's door and was ushered into his presence I was almost overcome with fatigue and heat, though too excited to realize it. General Lee sat at a table over some midnight work. He stopped writing for a moment and rose to receive me, while I saluted, more than realizing my boyhood's ideal in the commanding presence in which I stood at last. Almost faint, as I said, I forgot myself and my errand and seemed to see the object of my admiration through a sort of mist, like a dim picture looking out of a dark canvas. Suddenly I became conscious that General Lee was asking me my errand.

"I have been sent by your son, General William H. F. Lee," I began mechanically, "to tell you that he will meet you with his cavalry tomorrow morning by 9 o'clock at"— And then I stopped.

"At what point will he meet me?" asked General Lee.

It was a simple question, but the cold sweat started out on my hands and face as he asked it, and things grew dimmer than ever.

"I have forgotten, general," I said as soon as I could get my voice. It seemed to come from a hollow under my feet somewhere.

General Lee looked at me in surprise. Then, as if to relieve my embarrassment, he took a turn across the tent. "Can't you think?" he said, as I remained silent. I tried to go over the places in the country around. I could not think of one. The general stood still again before me, trying to think himself.

"Was it Ream's Station?" he asked.

"No, general, it wasn't that," I said, beginning to take a little courage.

"Or Hatcher's run?"

"No, general."

"Was it Stony creek?"

"No, sir." I was as blank as ever.

"Maybe it was Rowanta creek," he ventured again after a pause. I drew a long breath; the mist faded from my eyes.

"Yes, general," I said, "it was Rowanta creek," and waited to be dismissed with the unlimited contempt I deserved.

"When did you leave G.?" was the next question.

"At 11 o'clock," I replied. It was then half past 3.

"You must be tired. Orderly!" he called. The orderly appeared at the tent door. "Take this courier and see that he has some supper and a place to sleep." I saluted and went out with the orderly. I had the best meal that night, or, rather, that morning, that I had eaten in many a day and dropped asleep as soon as my head touched the sheltered grass which served as my bed in the tent assigned me.

When I woke there was no tent over me. The sun was shining in my face. The field was clear. Not a vestige of the encampment but its refuse was left. On one of the forked props which had upheld the tent hung my knapsack. I examined it. It was filled with food. Tied to a tree near by was my horse, saddled and bridled and showing a very dainty appetite for grass. I seized some of the contents of my knapsack and, eating as I rode, galloped on toward Rowanta creek.

It is needless to say that in the struggle which followed during the next few days over the Weldon railroad I fought as I had never fought before for the man before whom I had stood as a fool and but for his own thoughtfulness the possible cause of the failure of a battle, but who deemed it worth while to notice only that I was tired and hungry and took plains to see that I and my horse had food and rest.

Some Slips of Speech.

Many persons are in the habit of saying "Two pair of shoes" instead of "Two pairs of shoes," in the mistaken belief that the word pair should not be pluralized because it is plural in meaning. It means two of a kind and is therefore used in a plural sense, but we should say "one pair," all the same. An error is often made also in pluralizing the word "teaspoonful." It is not "teaspoonsful," but teaspoonfuls." In other words, it is not the teaspoon that should be pluralized, but the quantity; not the measuring article, but what it measures.

Essential Knowledge.

"What is the most important thing about handling a sailboat?"

A Shoe that Doubles a woman's Capacity for work or pleasure

A stylish shoe that's absolutely comfortable

No. 66, Red Cross Glazed Kid Lace, $3.50

In the ordinary shoe, at every step, the sole of the shoe rubs the ball of the foot. Thousands of rubs a day!

This continual rubbing draws the feet, makes them burn, throb, ache. The constant strain tortures the nerves of the feet and they in turn tire out the whole system.

The Red Cross Shoe saves a woman's strength, because it removes this strain. The sole of the Red Cross Shoe is flexible.

"It bends with the foot"

Oxfords, $3.50 and $3.00
High Shoes, $4.00 and $3.50
